

Fall 2019

Putting the Mindful Care in Home Health Care

Hi Everyone,

Sometimes it feels that the Fall season is nature's grand finale for the year. Leaves on the trees transform into the most rich and vibrant colors. The air becomes cool and crisp. Sunsets gives us the most spectacular skiescapes. It's the beginning of numerous fall festivals and harvest celebrations. This fall, here at Celtic Angels Home Health Care, we're celebrating with our second annual Awards Ceremony and we hope you'll all join us in tipping our hats to the most dedicated and talented caregivers of the year.

Angel of the Month

Patricia Simpson, a full-time registered nurse at Celtic Angels Home Health Care coordinates and mentors students in the Massachusetts General Hospital Chelsea Jobs for Youth Program. The MGH Youth Jobs Program offers Boston-area high school students paid summer jobs up to 25 hours-a-week for 8 weeks. Participants work in departments including Pediatrics, Radiology and Primary Care at MGH Chelsea. "The youth program helps high school students with finding their career path and provide insight into jobs that they would enjoy. We try to make it less of a summer job and more of a summer experience for them."

Client of the Month

We're tipping our hats to Virginia Hannigan, a Celtic Angels Home Health Care client. "Ginny" Hannigan has been a longtime pioneer and advocate of girls' softball and threw out the ceremonial first pitch to open the season this past April in Milton.

Pet of the Month

Meet Cheri. She's a standard poodle and loves to run through the woods, savor special home-made doggie biscuits and sit in the grass on a crisp autumn morning. Do you have a special pet you'd like us to feature in one of our newsletters? Send us a picture and the name of your special pet!

Our New eCard Program

Some of you have noticed you're now receiving lovely birthday or anniversary eCards from the staff at Celtic Angels Home Health Care. That's because we subscribe to an electronic greeting card company that allows us to always remember your birthday, anniversary or any other special day in your life. Send us your special days; make sure we have your latest email address - and we'll be sure to remember them with a special eCard.

Partnerships in Action

Elaine Conroy received her first job in 1981 with Catholic Charities. Today, she serves as Client Care manager with Celtic Angels Home Health Care and has continued to be a strong advocate for their CNA program. She speaks to graduating classes which typically contain 12-13 CNAs who are interested in home health care and looking for a career in a nurturing and supportive environment. Elaine shares with the participants 'a day in the life of a home health care professional' and the benefits of working for Celtic Angels Home Health Care, in particular, continuing education programs, benefits, and most importantly a rewarding, close-knit company culture. The continued partnership between Celtic Angels and Catholic Charities is just one more example of how organizations working together can make a difference, particularly in the lives of our senior population.

Along with providing these benefits to our employees, the Liberty Blue Affinity Program also benefits Celtic Angels Home Health Care by driving a revenue share back to our business, which we intend to use to expand the Celtic Angels Home Health Care employee scholarship fund. (Please note: No transaction fees are charged to you for using your Celtic Angels/Liberty Bay debit card.)

We chose to partner with Liberty Bay Credit Union on this initiative because their core values reflect our own.
