

Spring 2026

Maria's Corner

As we welcome the beauty and renewal of spring, I am reminded how important connection, compassion, and community truly are. This season often inspires us to open the windows, spend time outdoors, and reconnect with family and friends. It is also a meaningful reminder to check in on our aging loved ones and ensure they are receiving the care, companionship, and support they deserve.

At Celtic Angels Home Health Care, we understand that caregiving is deeply personal. Whether families need a few hours of companionship each week, assistance after a hospital stay, or more comprehensive support, our dedicated caregivers and nursing team are here to help provide peace of mind. We are honored every day by the trust families place in us, and we remain committed to delivering care with kindness, dignity, and respect.

On behalf of all of us at Celtic Angels, thank you for allowing us to be part of your lives and your community. We wish you and your loved ones a joyful, healthy, and peaceful spring season filled with hope, renewal, and many special moments together.

Truly,
Maria Burke, RN, Founder and CEO of Celtic Angels Home Health Care

A Touch of Ireland: Celebrating County Mayo & Achill Island

At Celtic Angels Home Health Care, our roots run deep—and for many of our team members, those roots lead back to the breathtaking landscapes of Ireland.

This spring, we're proud to highlight two very special places that hold meaning within our Celtic Angels family: County Mayo, home to our own Kelly Gannon, and Achill Island, where Maria Burke's husband, Joe Burke, is from.

County Mayo - Where Tradition Meets Natural Beauty

Located along Ireland's famed Wild Atlantic Way, County Mayo is known for its rugged coastline, rolling green hills, and timeless charm. From the vibrant town of Westport to the iconic Croagh Patrick mountain, Mayo offers a perfect blend of natural beauty and rich cultural heritage.

It's a place where community matters, where stories are shared, and where hospitality comes naturally—values that Kelly brings with her every day in her role at Celtic Angels.

Whether near or far, these Irish roots continue to shape the heart of Celtic Angels—where compassion, community, and care are always at the center of everything we do.

☘ Sláinte to the places that shape us—and the people who carry that spirit forward every day.

Celtic Angels Welcomes Kelly Gannon

Originally from the West of Ireland, Kelly joined Celtic Angels in late 2025, bringing a diverse background in healthcare, engineering, and music.

While studying biomedical engineering at university in Galway, she worked in healthcare systems before later becoming an embedded software engineer and professional musician. After moving to the United States in 2019, Kelly returned to hands-on caregiving, working directly in clients' homes. That experience gave her a deep appreciation for the dedication and compassion caregivers bring to their work each day.

As Scheduling Coordinator, Kelly's favorite part of her role is creating thoughtful matches between caregivers and clients. She approaches every schedule with one guiding principle: treat each client as you would your own family. Her goal is to ensure that both caregiver and client are positioned for a positive, successful day.

Outside of work, Kelly enjoys writing computer code, playing classical piano, and spending time with her young daughter, embracing life's simple joys.

We lost my mom almost 30 years ago! I was the oldest of 4 children! We miss her every day! One of my favorite pictures of us all on a family vacation before she got sick with Breast cancer.

Congratulations to U14 Gaelic Women's Football Team!

Thank you Edmond & Ciara Tobin, coaches for the U14 Gaelic Football team, who won this year's league championship!

Celtic Angels Home Health Care is so proud to have sponsored, and even more thrilled to cheer on one of our own extended family members—Ava Tobin—who played with passion, determination, and pride every step of the way.

This win is about more than a trophy. It's about commitment, community, and the lifelong lessons that come from showing up for one another.

Congratulations to the entire team on an amazing season—you've made your families, your coaches, and your community incredibly proud.

Celtic Angels, again, this year received an A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau.
